

Youthful Effects in the Newest Styles of Betty Wales Serge Dresses!

Such a remarkable way of combining smartness and simplicity has Betty Wales that one almost instinctively knows that these new arrivals in our dress department show the famous Betty Wales label.

This season we offer a variety of models, each individual and many with delightful little touches that endear the garments to critical dressers.

The Betty Wales stays in style as well as sets the style. The materials and workmanship are worth noting too, in these days when style is too often at the expense of service.

Betty Wales Dresses are priced at $15.00, $18.50 and up to $23.50.

ACCEPTS FRENCH POSITION

Paul Painleve Is to Form Cabinet of National Unity.

Paris, Sept. 11.—Paul Painleve, the minister of war, informed President Poincaré last night that he had accepted the task of forming a ministry to replace that headed by Alexander Ribot. M. Painleve declared that the new ministry should not be representative of political parties, but a government of national unity, bending all the strength of the nation to an increasingly energetic conduct of the war.

A few of the patriotic women of Calais and North Montpelier are still busily engaged in doing their bit to lessen the suffering of the boys at the front. Just now they are busy making hospital supplies and knitting. The demand for woolen articles is great and it is hoped that the society may provide a good supply of these articles before cold weather.

The society is now lacking for funds, but we hope some of the many friends of the cause that cannot help with work will help us a little in buying yarn. If anyone feels like donating a little for yarn please leave same with Mrs. R. C. Goodall, or any Red Cross member who will gladly receive it. The society has just finished the following articles: 6 pairs woolen stockings, 6 pairs woolen wrist-lets, 53 pajama suits, 48 strings, 72 head-bands, 30 hospital shirts, 55 house-wives, 26 comfort bags, 12 long knit bandages, 36 handkerchiefs, 48 knit wash cloths, 24 knit eye bandages, 24 sponges and a box was shipped Sept. 1, containing 270 gauze articles for the hospital. The Red Cross rooms at East Calais are open every Thursday and anyone wishing to "do their bit" is very welcome.

Mrs. Guy Bancroft, secretary of the Calais and North Montpelier American Red Cross branch, has no doubt more relatives now engaged in actual service than any other member of this branch, she having 14 near relatives doing their bit at the front.

Ten members of Meadow Brook Golf club returned Sunday morning from Hardwick, where they engaged in a tournament with the members of the Hardwick club, which was organized a year ago with the aid of Barre golfers who assisted in laying out the new course. Several spirited individual matches were the outcome of the meeting and when they were not busy on the course the Barre players were being royally entertained by the home folks.

While the street department is busy with details arising out of construction work on the South Main street paving project, the water department has not been idle and when the time comes for laying paving blocks on the cement foundation soon to be laid, the contracting company will not be hampered by the presence of hydrants and cut-off connections. Lately Supt. F. O. Lee has been diverting a part of his corps of laborers to the work of changing the hydrants and other water connections. Three hydrants along the section to be paved are to be set in the curbing of the new sidewalk and the water shut-off stations will be located in the sidewalk.

At the office of the principal at Goddard seminary to-day it was stated that sessions on the hill-top will not be resumed until Tuesday, Sept. 25, as the result of further orders from the board of health. A fortnight ago it was announced that the school would be re-opened Sept. 18, but in deference to suggestions made by the health authorities, another postponement has been announced. There has been a heavy enrollment of new students, and each pupil or prospective pupil is to be notified of the change in plans. Some doubt has been entertained as to whether Goddard will engage in the annual football campaign this fall because of the late opening, but the matter will not be decided until Coach Hoernle arrives to confer with other members of the faculty.

Taking of testimony in the case of James B. Edward, a Barre granite manufacturer, who met death on a Central Vermont railroad crossing west of Depot square on the morning of Aug. 31, was completed by the public service commission yesterday afternoon. In addition to the statements, made by members of the train crew, testimony was given by Frank and Walter Woodcock and Charles Oliver, granite manufacturers, who occupy the shed owned by Mrs. Agnes Williams near the spot where Mr. Edward was killed. Commissioner W. A. Dutton, who heard the evidence, returned to his home in Hardwick last night and Clerk N. H. Clawson has returned to Brattleboro. Decision in the matter was reserved, pending a study of the evidence.

Refreshments of cake and coffee were served. The next meeting will be announced later.

A. D. Morse of Venice, Cal., formerly a well-known resident of Barre, writes that they have had a good season there, with fine weather. The temperature in Venice from June 15 to Sept. 1 showed the warmest 76 above and the coldest 66. Thirty miles across the ocean, the mercury stood at 100 on many days. Two claps of thunder were the only thunder they have heard in Venice for four years, and since March there has not been enough rain to drop from the eaves.

High school students who have figured in preparatory school football squads in years past are of the opinion that Spaulding may be without an eleven when sessions are resumed in October. Usually teams are getting under way at this time and the lateness of the season will probably weigh against the chances for getting into form before the school football season is well over. Another reason why football may not be played is the absence of a coach who knows the men. Charles L. Brown, who guided Spaulding through an unusually successful season a year ago, has resigned from the faculty. His services will be missed, but in ordinary years preparations for staging the usual number of games would go on just the same. Montpelier high school has decided not to have a team this year.

Among the guests arriving at Hotel Barre last night and this morning were the following people: G. E. Fuller of St. Albans, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Frye of Oxford, O. Mr. and Mrs. G. N. TALK OF THE TOWN

No more cases of poliomyelitis have been developed since the malady appeared on East street last week and while September is regarded as a month in which the disease is apt to gain headway, the health authorities believe that if cases continue to develop they will be of the sporadic nature and not at all indicative of an epidemic. Apparently the school commission and the health department, in deciding to postpone the re-opening of the public schools until Oct. 1, or later, has acted in a manner satisfactorily answerable to popular sentiment. To-day's heavy frost is counted as an augur in favor of the complete eradication of "polio," as it is stated that the disease begins to wane with the first signs of a freeze-up. The quarantine measure which prohibits children under 16 from participating in public gatherings is still operative.

ONE HUNDRED CLERGYMEN

Merrill of Burlington called the gathering to order and introduced President John M. Thomas of Middlebury college, who welcomed the members of the conference. Devotional exercises were in charge of Rev. Arthur W. Bailey of Boston.

ARRESTED TWO EDITORS.

After Raiding Office of German Newspaper in Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Sept. 11.—In a raid on the Philadelphia Tageblatt, a long established German language morning paper, which is charged with having been attacking government war policies for several months past, federal agents last night arrested the editor and business manager and confiscated large quantities of correspondence, files and documents. The prisoners, who are charged with violating the espionage act, are Dr. Martin Darkow, editor, and Herman Lemke, business manager. Warrants also have been issued for the president, treasurer, editor-in-chief and an editorial writer.

The government agents in one warrant charge certain members of the staff with "willfully making and conveying false reports and statements with the intent to promote the success of the enemies of the United States while the United States is at war with the imperial German government."

A second warrant charges the staff with using the mails for the same purpose.

According to government officers under Special Agent Frank Garbarino, who conducted the raid, the Tageblatt on Saturday published statements instructing Germans in this city how to evade the postal laws and forward letters to Germany. In these statements government officers say, a man described as "H. Iselhurst, care of the German Aid society, Stockholm, Sweden," was given as the official who would see that communications addressed to German destinations, would arrive unsuspected by American or allied censors.

The newspaper and business files, correspondence and other matter seized in the raid were taken to the federal building for examination.

The men for whom warrants were issued, including the prisoners, according to government agents, are all members of the Philadelphia Tageblatt Publishing association. This company publishes in addition to the daily paper the Philadelphia Sontagsblatt, which is the Sunday edition.

All of the employees of the plant, about 20, have been served with subpoenas of appear before the federal grand jury.

MORETOWN MAN GUILTY.

William Drinkwine Drove Auto When Under Influence of Liquor.

Brandon, Sept. 11.—William Drinkwine of Moretown was arrested by Officer Sisco Sunday afternoon near the Woods farm, south of the village on the charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. He spent the night in jail and yesterday was taken before Justice M. L. Gibbs. He pleaded not guilty to the charge. Attorney Frank W. Williams acted as counsel for the respondent. After some discussion Drinkwine decided to plead guilty and was fined $50 and costs amounting to $64. Town Grand Juror John S. Butties prosecuted.

SHARON COUPLE RECEIVED.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Patten Observe Their Golden Anniversary.

Sharon, Sept. 11.—A community event of an especial interest last evening was the 50th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Patten with a reception in the village grange hall. Friends and neighbors of the couple were present. A musical and literary program was given.

The program included a vocal solo by Miss Irah Strachan, a resident of Sharon and teacher of music in the Stansfield, P. Q. university, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Mark Drown. Walter and Miss Grace Burke sang a duet and violin solos were by Mrs. Myron Messer and Mrs. Blanche Roberts. A reading was given by Frank Cook. Goldenrods and ferns made up the decorations. At the conclusion of the program proper there was a dance by the younger people present.

Mr. Patten, now in his 77th year, was born and grew to manhood in Auburn, N. H., while Mrs. Patten, now in her 70th year, was born in Tunbridge, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Sargent, her maiden name being Abbie Noyes Sargent. After the marriage the couple went to their native home in Auburn. After a few years there they bought a farm in Stratford and a few years later returned to Auburn. The farm in Stratford was repurchased and it remained in the family possession until four years ago, when the estate was sold and the family removed to Sharon, where the two sons, and only children, were in business, as proprietors of the Sharon house. Later the sons, Edward Charles, now in Grand Rapids, Mich., and William Robert, traveling salesman of the International Harvester Co., sold the hotel, but the parents still remain as residents, as does the younger son and five daughters of Edward C., the older son. Both sons and the granddaughter were at the reception.

Among those present outside the family proper were Daniel H. Webster, a life-long comrade of Mr. Patten, and Mrs. Webster of Auburn, N. H., a sister of Mr. Patten, and present at the celebration is Mrs. Olin Billings of Sharon.
